WHY ATTEND?

HarrisData Expert Conferences are the best time of the year when you, the customer, will have face-to-face contact with the HarrisData Staff, HarrisData Customers, and HarrisData Partners. This event is an invaluable resource that demonstrates the latest capabilities of your software, enlightens you about the future direction of your solution, and maximizes your investment in HarrisData Software.

HarrisData Expert Conferences are for the specialist(s) who wants to utilize their knowledge of HarrisData software to strengthen the functions of their company. Each conference will center around relevant topics such as ERP and Financials, with an HRIS and Developers conference coming soon.

Actively participate in new industry trends, concepts, and techniques that can help your business and participate in interactive enhancement discussions centered on strategy, functionality, and priority. This is also the opportunity to discuss new features, consult with Product Specialists, improve your software, network, and have fun!

Invaluable Features:

In-Person is Back and Better

What's Different?

Tired of User Conferences where vendors drroll on for hours on end, wishing you were remote to focus on your work and ignore most of what is being said? Large user conferences cover a lot of ground and rarely dive deep into valuable topics. There's simply not enough time to teach everyone about the basic product functionality to follow up on any in-depth topics. In-person conferences need to provide value for every attendee.

That's why we introduced HarrisData Expert Conferences, where HarrisData Experts come to solve problems to create a better product for the HarrisData Community. Expert Conferences are a day and a half of rich interaction, all in an interactive and casual setting with many opportunities to network and meet everyone involved in the community.

HarrisData Expert Conferences begin with a brief update from HarrisData Senior Management on the current company and product strategy, along with a brief, focused overview of new functionality. Then, the experts go to work - five sessions focused on different customer problems that allow product experts from HarrisData development and support to combine with experts who use the products to create actionable alternatives and recommendations for each problem.

Finally, a half-day will be split into three sessions performing expert evaluations of enhancement ideas brought forth by the community, to determine which are feasible and deliver the most value.

Each Expert Conference focuses on a particular topic of interest:

ERP Experts: Monday/Tuesday, September 18-19 2023 in Delavan, WI.

- HarrisData Manufacturing and Distribution products, including Sales and Purchasing, Inventory, Costing, Production, Planning, and Execution products.

Financials Experts: Monday/Tuesday, October 23-24 2023 in Delavan, WI.

- HarrisData Financials products, including GL, AP, AR, and Fixed Assets.

HRIS Experts: Monday/Tuesday, TBD

- HRIS/Payroll products.

Developer Experts: Monday/Tuesday, TBD

- Development tools available with HarrisData and AppsInHD products.
